

Master of Yachts Limited

UCCV-2

Targetgroup	The Yacht building industry is booming and along with it the demand for qualified personnel also. The International Yacht Training Master of Yachts courses can either be taken as recreational or professional courses. The IYT Master of Yachts Offshore 200 Ton course has become the most globally accepted course for the operation of commercial yachts up to 200 Tons. The course is ideal for those who greatly want to expand their knowledge and experience and increase their confidence in commanding a yacht. STC offers a range of courses from coastal to ocean for recreational and professional candidates. The programme consists of separate modules as outlined in the course descriptions. Each module can be taken individually or together. A number of practical courses are run after each theory module.
